ITEM 6 Discussion Item: RTF Bylaws Review and Potential Amendments

The San Diego City-County Reinvestment Task Force (RTF) is an official public-private body that was created in 1977 by the City of San Diego and San Diego County to monitor local bank lending practices and develop reinvestment strategies that increase economic opportunity, financial strength, and housing stability for the region's low and moderate-income (LMI) residents. The RTF was founded to provide local implementation support for the 1977 federal Community Reinvestment Act, which was enacted to reduce discriminatory credit practices and reverse the destructive impacts of redlining in low-income neighborhoods and communities of color. In 2014, the RTF approved and adopted a set of bylaws to govern its operations. To strengthen the RTF for the future, the membership will discuss the need to review and identify potential amendments since the last bylaws update in 2018.

ITEM 7 Discussion Item: Master Planning for the RTF

The RTF serves the residents of the City and County of San Diego in an effort to promote economic progress, particularly in LMI communities in collaboration with its banking partners, and local non-profit housing and economic development organizations. In anticipation of developing a new multi-year Master Plan, the RTF Co-Chairs and members and the public will discuss key topics of interest the RTF might explore over the next several years through the creation of a master plan, including issues to monitor, strategic activities, and chair, member and public expectations.
